

Tallahassee.com Sky Guy: Look for Venus in the morning sky, Mercury at dusk Tallahassee.com Now it is true that Venus and usually Jupiter are very bright, usually Mercury, Mars, and Saturn are not. While the last three are “naked-eye” objects, unless you know where they are in the sky then there is really no way to tell they are planets by ...y más »

Toda la noticia: Mercury: Google Noticias